

Gideon Norwood

Character Dossier

Loyal to a fault ship's engineer of the Emerald Court of Ardenne

Overview

Gideon Norwood is a ship's engineer living in the Emerald Court of Ardenne. Gideon is 41 years old, originally from the Copper Coast, and is known around the Mirror Gallery as loyal to a fault. In conversation Gideon ends sentences with 'you understand?'.

Background

Gideon arrived in the Emerald Court of Ardenne 15 years ago after leaving the Copper Coast under circumstances Gideon describes differently every time. The first job was hauling for House Ardenne; the second was the one that stuck. Today Gideon works as a ship's engineer near the royal mews and is paid, when paid at all, in crowns.

Gideon learned the trade from Percival Thornbury, who still drops by unannounced. The longest-running feud in Gideon's life is with Delphine Norwood, over a matter neither will explain. The person Gideon trusts most is Percival Thornbury.

Current goal: to build a boat with no nails in it. Greatest fear: losing their sense of smell.

Personality and speech

Temperament: loyal to a fault.

Speech pattern: Gideon ends sentences with 'you understand?'.

Tells: when lying, Gideon mentions Pebble the hedgehog for no reason.

Sample dialogue

Visitor: What do you do here?

Gideon: I am the ship's engineer. Has been that way longer than you have been asking questions.

Visitor: What is your favourite thing to eat?

Gideon: Charred cardamom buns. Do not tell Delphine I said so.

Visitor: Is Pebble yours?

Gideon: Pebble belongs to nobody. Pebble tolerates me. Lucky number is 966, if you were about to ask.
